Weekend Roundup

Find the best Los Angeles things to do for the weekend of 03.18.11

MUSIC + DANCE

BILL T. JONES/ARNIE ZANE DANCE COMPANY: BETWEEN US

March 18-19. Long before he won Tony Awards for Best Choreography (Fela and Spring Awakening), Bill T. Jones founded a multi-cultural contemporary dance company with artistic collaborator Arnie Zane. During this historic evening, you'll see rarely performed classic works from the repertoire of this internationally esteemed company. Between Us restages simple and beautiful duets about the bond between two people. (Audiences haven't seen many of these dances since the 1980s.) The Broad Stage, 1310 11th St., Santa Monica. 310.434.3200. www.thebroadstage.com

DEVO

March 19. More than three decades after the release of its visionary debut, Q: Are We Not Men? A: We Are Devo, and a full 20 years since its last studio album, Devo is back with the aptly titled Something for Everybody. Catch them on stage at Club Nokia. Notable Austin-based indietronica special guest, The Octopus Project opens the show. Club Nokia, 800 West Olympic Blvd., downtown 213.765.7000. www.clubnokia.com

DEADMAUS

March 19. For the official launch of Legacy Saturdays at the historic Belasco Theatre downtown, Deadmau5 Unhooked lays out his infectious dance beats for the occasion. The Belasco Theatre is one of downtown LA's most venerable historic landmarks, ready to make history once again. 9 p.m. 21+ $100/$200 VIP. 1050 South Hill St., downtown. www.thebelasco.com

WU MAN

March 20. Internationally renowned virtuosic pipa performer, Wu Man has also carved out a career creating and collaborating on projects that give this ancient Chinese instrument, a four-stringed lute, a presence in the Western world and a new role in today's music. Designed especially to complement the exhibition Brush and Shutter: Early Photography in China, Wu Man's performance will transcend time and musical genres. 1:30 p.m.; 3 p.m. $55. Getty Center, Museum Lecture Hall, 1200 Getty Center Drive, L.A. Tickets: www.dacamera.org 213.477.2929.

STYLE

FOXY FRIDAYS

Fridays. Start your weekends with bubbly and blowouts in the heart of Hollywood at Hairroin Salon. Just make an appointment, choose your look, a happy hour beverage and get shampooed and blown out to the tune of live DJs. $35. Hairroin Salon, 1553 Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood, 323.467.0392. www.hairroinsalon.com

OPERA

THE TURN OF THE SCREW

March 12-30. Benjamin Britten's opera based on Henry James' 19th-century ghost story makes its premiere at L.A. Opera. Star soprano Patricia Racette takes the leading role of the Governess, supported by tenor William Burden and sopranos Tamara Wilson and Ashley Emerson. Dorothy Chandler Pavilion, 135 N. Grand Ave., downtown, 213.972.7211 Map H16 laopera.com

THEATER

IN MOTHER WORDS

Through May 1. When some of contemporary theater's most talented voices – including Pulitzer Prize winner Beth Henley, Peabody Award winner Theresa Rebeck and two-time Steinberg/ATCA New Play award finalist Michele Lowe — tackle the subject of motherhood, the result is an eyeopening, hilarious and irresistible night of theater. More than a dozen of today's best playwrights come together to share their personal stories on one of the most universal themes. Audrey Skirball Kenis Theater, Geffen Playhouse, 10886 Le Conte Ave., L.A., 310.208.5454. www.geffenplayhouse.com

THE MERCY SEAT BY NEIL LABUTE

March 19-Apr. 24. The Vs. Theatre Company explores what would happen if you were suddenly faced with the now-or-never chance to leave your spouse for your lover, with no messy strings attached. Michelle Clunie (Queer as Folk) and Johnny Clark star in the L.A. premiere of The Mercy Seat, Neil LaBute's caustically funny examination of opportunism in the wake of tragedy. Set on Sept. 12, 2001, The Mercy Seat attempts to "examine the 'ground zero' of our lives...the painful, simplistic warfare we often wage on the hearts of those we profess to love," wrote LaBute. Tickets $20/$12, students/seniors. [Inside] the Ford, Ford Theatre, 2580 Cahuenga Blvd., Hollywood, 323.461.3673. fordtheatres.org
